General

During its 2013 World Congress in Ghent (Belgium), the International Federation for Information and Communication Processing (Intersteno) will conduct the following international and world championships:

- World championship in Text Production;
- World championship in Text correction with PC;
- World championship in Professional Word Processing;
- World championship in Shorthand/Speech Capturing;
- World championship in Multilingual Shorthand;
- World championship in Real Time Transcription;
- International competition in Correspondence & summary reporting;

- Word championship in Text Production for Persons with Sight Impaired or who are blind.

The competitions will be conducted in each of the languages, listed on the registration form at www.intersteno2013.org.

Article 2 – Participation

The competitions are open to everyone meeting the requirements laid down in these regulations, with the following exceptions.

Persons may not compete in any competition in which they were involved in the preparation, organization, conduct or corrections. However, competitors can be asked to help in the first correction/ evaluation of the competition works under the supervision of a jury member.

Competitors in one competition may be involved in the preparation, organization and/or corrections of any other competition, only with the written, prior approval by the Jury.

Competitors must register using the official online registration form at www.intersteno2013.org before the deadline listed on the form. The registration is not guaranteed until payment of the participation fee is received. Registration fees must be paid before the due date listed on the form. Applications received after this date can be refused.

The Jury may restrict the number of participants from some country or participants competing in some language if the national groups can't provide with a credible number of assistants to manage correcting the works within a timeframe defined by the Jury. In this case, the Jury defines after consulting the national groups, the criteria who may attend the competition. The Jury may also decide to cancel a competition in a specific language, if any national group may not provide translations and dictations of the competition texts within the deadlines given by the Jury.

Registration fees are not refundable even if the competitor withdraws from the competitions, unless the withdrawal is due to the restriction of number of participants.

Article 3 – Age categories

All competitions are organized in three age groups, each group having its own result list with possible world champion or international champion.

- Seniors: competitors over the age of 20 years or older in the calendar year of the competition (born in 1992 or earlier);
- Juniors: competitors between 17 and 20 years old in the year of the competition (born in 1993, 1994, 1995 or 1996);
- Pupils: competitors younger than 17 years in the year of the competition (born in 1997 or later).

Article 4 – Material

The Organization Committee provides the competitors with access to electricity. The competitor is responsible for providing any adapters or other accessories necessary to achieve a working connection to the locally provided electricity.

Competitors bring their computers themselves and provide all supplies, software and ancillary machinery necessary to perform the tasks involved in each competition. This includes (but is not limited to): paper, pencils, pens, shorthand machine, stenomask or other form of voice silencer needed to make speech dictation inaudible to others in the room.

Regulations for the INTERSTENO competitions – Ghent (Belgium) 2013

Any digital files of competitor's work product will be delivered and have to be stored on USB-sticks provided by the Organization Committee. It is the responsibility of the competitor to have the technical capacity to store their work on USB media.

If a competitor needs to use another memory device, he must apply for permission in advance, on the registration form. It is at the sole discretion of the jury to accept or reject such application.

Article 5 – Conduct of the competition

The competitors must follow the instructions given by the Jury and the Organization Committee. Participating in the organized instruction sessions is mandatory for all competitors.

The competitions are open to the public, provided that spectators can be seated without disturbing the competitors. The Jury may decide otherwise if these requirements are not met. Photographing and recording for radio & television is allowed only after the competitions and during the transcription period.

Competitors who for any reason stop their performance during the competition must remain seated and remain silent until the end of the competition.

Any violation of the competition rules will result in the immediate exclusion of the involved competitor(s).

Smoking is not allowed in the competition rooms.

Text Production | Text corrections with PC Professional word processing

In the text correction competition and the professional word processing competition, competitors must use one of the word processing software programs named on the Jury list.

After the final whistle, all competitors must stand and raise their hands.

The typed or edited text will be stored on the local hard disk as well as on USB-sticks provided by the Organizing Committee. They will be handed in to the Organizing Committee.

Competitors who alter their documents after the final whistle will be disqualified.

Shorthand/Speech capturing competitions

The competitors will be assembled in language groups. Larger language groups may be divided in accordance with linguistic regions or other criteria. Only digitally recorded dictations will be used. The dictations are checked before the competition for correctness of the dictations and for keeping the time. Only in extraordinary cases in the multilingual competition will live dictation be allowed.

An one-minute practice dictation will be given before the competition dictation.

The transcription may be handwritten in ink with a fountain pen or ballpoint pen in legible handwriting or saved on an USB-stick provided by the Organizing Committee.

The assistant indicates on the work the transcription start and end times.

Article 6 – Use of external assistance

The competition shall be performed by the competitor himself without aide of any external source, devices, methods or using information other than what is provided in these regulations or by orders of the Jury.

The competitor must provide verification of their identity in the form of an identification card with photo.

Phones or any other devices that may give direct access to the Internet or other communication networks may not be used in the competition room.

The Jury and the assistants are allowed to control and will control the use of such devices and methods.

The competitors must, upon request, provide the jury with all relevant information regarding the devices they are using, including allowing the Jury and the assistants to examine to content of any device in the possession of any competitor.

The competitor shall configure their computer in such a manner that no private or confidential information will be revealed or any non-disclosure clause violated if the Jury or assistants want to examine the computer.

Any repairs to hardware or software devices brought by the competitor must be performed by the competitor himself without disturbing the other competitors.

Competitors are not allowed to create any audio or video copy of the dictation.

The use of a personal dictionary and PC dictionaries with spell checking is allowed.

Article 7 – Jury

The Jury consists of a Jury President, elected by the Council and a competition coordinator for each of the competitions.

The Jury is assisted by a taskforce made up of specialists/advisers, which is involved in the preparation, organization and correction activities of the competitions.

For the administration of the competition itself and the correction activities, additional assistants may be used.

Correction of the competition work shall be conducted in a place designated by the Jury unless otherwise agreed.

The competition coordinators lead the competitions and make all necessary decisions. The competition coordinators are responsible for the corrections and the result lists. The competition coordinators are proposed by the Board and approved by the Council.

In order to assure equal conditions for all competitors, the competition coordinators may perform, preferably in cooperation with the national group in concern, any actions needed to correct inequities, such as adjusting the speed of the digitally recorded dictations or to correct the penalty points assigned by the correctors.

The Jury President coordinates all activities of the competition coordinators and has final responsibility for the competitions. Decisions of the Jury are taken by majority. In case of equality of votes, the vote of the Jury President is decisive.

Article 8 – Complaints

Complaints must be made in writing by competitors or their representatives and provided to the Jury within the deadlines set out below.

Complaints other than those related to any competitor's individual results should be made immediately at the conclusion of the competition, and in no case later than 3 hours after its end.

Competitors shall have access to their own individual competition results one day before the prize giving ceremony.

The competitor or his representative must make any complaint over his results in writing, not later than three hours after the competitor has been given access to his results, following the procedure that will be explained during the competition instructions session.

Complaints related to the ranking lists must be made immediately after the public release of the ranking list, and in no case later than one week after the prize giving ceremony.

The Jury will adjudicate any complaints and can, if necessary, adjust the results up to one month after the prize giving. The Jury shall explain its decisions in writing; decisions of the Jury are final and may not be appealed.

Article 9 – Texts

The Council shall establish the language of the basic text for each competition. The basic texts will be politically neutral, without specific technical terms or names that require a special knowledge of a specific theme or region.

For texts in languages not using Latin or Cyrillic alphabet, a transcription in Latin alphabet is to be provided to the Jury by the national group who perform the translation.

In speech capturing contests, for each language, the text will be dictated at an increasing rate of speed, as set out in one of the columns defined in the specific regulations of the competition based upon the length of that translation of the basic text.

The Jury shall provide each national group detailed information on how to allocate syllables if the total length of the text falls between two columns.

The national group is responsible for informing the competitors which column has been used in this particular language.

Article 10 – Awards and certificates

Awards will be made by the Organization Committee based on the competitors' performances, after the consultation of the Jury, and are presented at the prize-giving ceremony.

Each competitor whose results are valid will receive a certificate.

For each contest, the 3 best results of each contest will be called on the stage and receive a medal (gold, silver, bronze).

World Champion title will be released only if the minimum requirements for a championship are fulfilled. This title will be duly mentioned on the certificate.

The certificates are given at the conclusion of the prize-giving ceremony to the competitors or their representatives. The awards for any competitors who were not present at the prize-giving ceremony will be given to their representatives at the conclusion of the prize-giving ceremony. Under no circumstances will certificates be sent by post afterwards.

Article 11 – Preservation of the competition works

The works produced by the competitors are the property of the Jury and must be handed in even if the competitor doesn't finish the competition. All competition work product is preserved for one year by the Organization Committee.

The original competition documents will be downloadable from the Intersteno website for training purposes after the prize-giving ceremony. The Jury is responsible for the completeness of the text archive.

Article 12 – Unforeseen circumstances

In unforeseen circumstances the Jury is authorized to interpret these regulations in a logical fashion. The regulations may not be violated. The decisions of the Jury are final.

Article 13 – Text production

13.1 Kind of competition

The competition consists of a 30-minutes copying of a typed text. Competitors produce the text without separating the text in paragraphs by returns and using single line spacing.

The texts for the competition is provided to the competitor on white paper, 210 x 297 mm in size, in black print, without hyphenation, in Courier 12 pt., line spacing 1 ½. Each page consists of 7 blocks of text with 5 lines of text each.

These texts will be distributed by the Jury.

Competitors are successful if their works are within the following limits:

Category	Min. char/minute	Max. errors
Seniors	360	0.25 %
Juniors	300	0.25 %
Pupils	240	0.25 %

Competitors may use software capable of producing more than one character in a single keystroke.

This competition is split into three subgroups:

- competitors using a regular keyboard, without the ability to strike more than one key at the same moment, such as a PC keyboard;
- competitors using keyboards where more than one key can be struck at the same moment (such as a shorthand machine);
- competitors using speech recognition; these competitors must use an effective speech silencer (such as a stenomask) to render their dictation inaudible to other competitors.

For ideographic languages in which the use of keyboard differs from that for alphabetic languages, the Jury is entitled to decide whether to list competitors using such language-specific keyboards separately in one or more lists and how to name such categories. The Jury is entitled to determine the terms used when world champion titles and medals are given in these categories.

A separate competition in text production for persons who are sight impaired or blind will be organized. All rules from the text production competition are applicable, except the time of the competition which will be extended by one bonus minute to 31 minutes total.

13.2 Evaluation

One hundred penalty points will be deducted from the total number of written characters for each of the following errors:

- missing, additional or modified characters (maximum one error per word is counted),
- transposition of two characters or two words,
- missing or additional words or word groups,
- missing or extra spacing,
- missing twice typed and transposed lines.

For words or lines that are omitted, the corresponding number of characters will also be deducted. Errors in the final ten characters are not counted; counting ends with the last correct character.

13.3 Ranking and titles

Results are ranked based on the points earned, as defined in the evaluation section above.

Regulations for the INTERSTENO competitions – Ghent (Belgium) 2013

In the categories using a regular keyboard, world champion titles are awarded to the 3 highest ranked competitors if the following minimum points have been:

Seniors	15 000 points,
Juniors	12 000 points,
Pupils	8 000 points.

In both of the other categories (keyboards where more than one key may be struck simultaneously or using speech recognition) world champion titles are given only if the results are better than in the category with regular keyboard.

World champion titles of text production for persons who are sight impaired or blind will be awarded if the same, minimum point levels are achieved.

Article 14 – Text correction with PC

14.1 Kind of competition

The competition consists of correcting a digitally delivered text of up to 15,000 characters, containing up to 350 text corrections with the aid of a common word-processing program. Corrections have to be made in accordance with a correction sheet within 10 minutes allowed time.

Competitors are successful if at least 60 corrections, in the order presented on the correction sheet, have been correctly executed.

The corrections are indicated with international and by Intersteno accepted correction signs. Corrections which may be foreseen are: delete, replace, reorder, insert text parts, emphasize by bold printing, underline, align, indent, text structure.

After the final whistle, five returns have to be made and the final result must be saved.

14.2 Evaluation

The competitor gets 100 points for each correction carried out properly or not properly.

500 penalty points will be deducted for each imperfect, unexecuted or additional correction.

14.3 Ranking and titles

Results are ranked based on the points earned, as defined in the evaluation section above.

World champion titles are awarded to the three, highest ranked competitors if the following minimum ranking points have been achieved:

Seniors	14 000 points,
Juniors	11 000 points,
Pupils	7 000 points.

Article 15 – Professional word processing

15.1 Kind of competition

The competition consists of the professional editing of texts delivered on a USB-stick. In additional, competitors will receive detailed printed instructions on the tasks to be performed.

Working time: 90 minutes.

The tasks to be performed may consist of:

- professional and efficient (re)structuring and (re)formatting of text documents (all character-, paragraph- and page/section formatting);
- inserting and smart positioning of graphic elements (illustrations, shapes, text boxes...);

- selecting, sorting and merging structured data together with all kinds of main documents to get the wanted result;
- all kinds of automatic numbering and bulleting on different levels;
- problem solving and time reducing actions by using (advanced) search-replace features and/or basic macro's;
- the smart use of tables to (re)structure (parts of) information in an attractive way;
- generating a table of content, index... within a described lay-out;

All skills/functions have to be used to solve the task list as professional and efficient possible, allowing later changes in content and/or layout in a smooth way.

Samples of former competitions are available at www.intersteno.org.

Competitors are successful if the competitor has reached at least 50 % of the total points possible, as defined in the evaluation section below.

15.2 Evaluation

100 points are divided over all tasks to be performed. Every properly executed task earns the corresponding number of points. Partially executed tasks may earn partial points. Tasks that are not executed or have been executed incorrectly earn no points. The division the 100 available points across tasks is prepared in advance by the competition coordinator.

15.3 Ranking and titles

Results are ranked based on:

- the points earned, as set out in the evaluation section above,
- the time used.

World champion titles are awarded to the three highest ranked competitors if the following shares of total ranking points have been achieved:

Seniors	80 %,
Juniors	75 %,
Pupils	70 %.

Article 16 – World championship in Shorthand/speech capturing

16.1 Kind of competition

The competition consists of capturing and transcribing a 15-minute-long text, dictated at an increasing rate of speed.

Participation at this competition is open to competitors using graphic shorthand, machine shorthand (stenotype or regular keyboard) or voice writing (with speech recognition) using a stenomask or other speech silencer to effectively render their dictation inaudible to other competitors.

The dictation is divided into three sections:

- sect. C: 5-minute dictation at lower rates of increasing speed,
- sect. B: 5-minute dictation at medium rates of increasing speed,
- sect. A: 5-minute dictation at higher rates of increasing speed.

Between sections C and B and sections B and A there is a short pause (3–5 seconds) in the dictation.

The competitor's performance shall be assessed based on the amount of dictated text captured and transcribed within each section before the allowable number of errors has been reached.

The dictation will be followed by a transcription period. The maximum allowed transcription time is 150 minutes.

Regulations for the INTERSTENO competitions – Ghent (Belgium) 2013

In order to check the validity of the transcription, the competitors must turn in their stenogram together with the transcription. Users of machine shorthand and of voice writing must deliver their rough transcript in electronic format, saved prior to beginning the revision work, immediately after the end of the dictation.

Competitors may transcribe more than five minutes if they started from sections C and B.

The speed of the text follows one of the below mentioned columns and is based on the length of the translation of the basic text. The competitors will be informed before the dictation which column has been used in their particular language.

The division in minutes is made according to the following table:

Columns	I	II	III	IV	V	VI
Section C
Increase per minute	16	17	18	19	20	21
1. Minute	148	151	154	157	160	163

Total	1850	1925	2000	2075	2150	2225

16.2 Evaluation

a) Penalty table

	Penalties
A word or punctuation mark replaced, omitted or added which alters the meaning of the sentence	4
The first important word of a word group wrong, omitted or added	4
Every next word of a word group wrong, omitted or added	1
A word replaced by an equivalent or synonym	1
A word omitted or added which does not alter the meaning	1
Transposition of words which does not alter the meaning	1
A definite or indefinite article or a preposition wrong, omitted or added which does not alter the meaning	1
Singular instead of plural or vice versa, punctuation error or wrong inflected affix which does not alter the meaning	1
Spelling error (including accents) or typographical error which does not alter the meaning	1

In cases where there is more than one correct way to spell a word or to use marks and where it is not clear from the dictation which one should be used, no penalty points are assessed for using an otherwise correct form of spelling or punctuation rather than that in the original text.

Repeated errors are counted only once. Especially in agglutinative languages, only the first occurrence of a consistently repeated error is counted.

b) Maximum penalties allowed

The work is valid only if at least the first three minutes of any of the sections (C, B or A) have been transcribed accurately, taking into account the number of penalties allowed.

Once the maximum number of penalties stated below has been exceeded within any three consecutive minutes, that minute and any minutes after it in the section are no longer considered valid.

Section	C			B			A
First min.	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13
Last min.	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15
Penalties	24	26	28	30	32	35	38	41	44	47	51	54	57

The final result is categorized by the section number and the last minute transcribed within allowable penalty limits: C3, C4, C5, C6, C7, B8, B9, B10, B11, B12, A13, A14, A15.

Only full minutes are counted.

16.3 Ranking and titles

The results of the shorthand/speech capturing competition are listed in separate lists, split according to the technology used, i.e. graphic shorthand, machine shorthand, keyboarding and voice writing with speech recognition.

Only the competitors who have met the competition requirements will be listed.

Results are ranked in order determined by:

- the section, in the order of A, B and C,
- the number of valid transcribed minutes,
- the number of penalties in the last three minutes,

World champion titles are delivered to the competitors achieving the best results without considering the technology used.

World champion titles are awarded to the three highest ranked competitors if the following minimum valid minutes have been achieved:

Seniors	in section B 5 minutes,
Juniors	in section C 5 minutes,
Pupils	in section C 3 minutes.

Article 17 – World championship in multilingual shorthand

17.1 Kind of competition

The competition consists of capturing and transcribing three-minute-long texts, dictated at increasing speed in at least two different languages.

The competitor in the multilingual competition shall capture three-minutes dictations in any of chosen languages with speed increasing from 120 to 140 syllables per minute (120, 130, 140).

For each language, the transcriptions of these dictations must be handed in no later than 60 minutes after the start of the transcription.

Regulations for the INTERSTENO competitions – Ghent (Belgium) 2013

In order to check the validity of the transcription, the competitors must deliver their stenonotes or voice dictation file (respectively) in electronic format.

Each competitor must designate in advance, on his application form, whether he wants the dictation given in his mother tongue in the world championship in shorthand, the real time competition or the summary reporting competition to be used in the multilingual shorthand competition or whether he wants to transcribe the multilingual shorthand competition's 120 to 140 syllables/minute dictation in the mother tongue.

A transcription is valid only if the whole text has been transcribed properly. A maximum of 50 penalties are allowed in foreign languages but a maximum of 30 penalties in the mother tongue.

To qualify in the multilingual competition, the competitor must perform a valid transcription of the dictation in at least two languages; that is:

- either the transcription of three valid minutes in the mother tongue in one of the three sections (A, B or C) of the world championship in shorthand/speech capturing or a valid transcription in the mother tongue of the correspondence and summary reporting competition or of the real time transcription competition plus the valid transcription of the three minutes in at least one other language;
- or the transcription of three valid minutes in at least two languages in the Multilingual Competition.

17.2 Evaluation

Penalties are awarded as in the penalty table of the shorthand/speech capturing competition (16.2).

17.3 Ranking and titles

Results are ranked based upon:

- the number of valid transcriptions in all languages;
- the total number of penalties in all valid transcriptions counting 0 penalties for sections A, B or C and for the real time competition or the number of penalties in the letter of correspondence and summary reporting competition;
- the total time used for transcription in all foreign languages.

World champion titles are awarded to the three, highest ranked competitors if the-competitor has transcribed successfully in at least three languages.

Article 18 – Real time speech capturing

18.1 Kind of competition

The competition consists of capturing an eight-minute-long dictation with increasing speed, followed by the immediate delivery of the transcription at the conclusion of the dictation, without any additional corrections.

Participation in this competition is open to competitors using machine shorthand (stenotype or regular keyboard) or voice writing with speech recognition using a stenomask or other speech silencer to effectively render their dictation inaudible to other competitors.

The speed of the text follows one of the below mentioned columns and is based on the length of the translation of the basic text. The competitors will be informed before the dictation which column has been used in this particular language.

The division in minutes is made as in the following table.

Columns	I	II	III	IV	V	VI
Increase per minute	16	17	18	19	20	21
1. Minute	148	151	154	157	160	163
2. Minute	164	168	172	176	180	184
3. Minute	180	185	190	195	200	205
4. Minute	196	202	208	214	220	226
5. Minute	212	219	226	233	240	247
6. Minute	228	236	244	252	260	268
7. Minute	244	253	262	271	280	289
8. Minute	260	270	280	290	300	310
Total	1632	1684	1736	1788	1840	1892

When a competitor can no longer follow the dictation or at the end of the competition (whichever comes first): competitors using a keyboard, shall immediately stop writing and take their hands away from the keyboard and competitors using speech recognition shall immediately stop dictating and lay down their speech silencer.

Competitors who stop before the conclusion of the dictation are not allowed to review or correct their work and must wait quietly for the end of dictation.

After the dictation, competitors must wait for the Jury to instruct them to save their transcriptions on the USB-stick before doing so.

18.2 Evaluation

The penalty table for the shorthand/speech capturing competition (16.2) is also used for this contest. .

A competitor's work is valid only if at least the first three minutes have been transcribed properly, taking into account the number of penalties allowed.

Once the maximum number of penalties stated below has been exceeded within any three consecutive minutes, that minute and any minutes after it are not considered as valid.

First minute	1	2	3	4	5	6
Last minute	3	4	5	6	7	8
Penalties	24	26	28	30	32	35

18.3 Ranking and titles

The results in the real time competition are reported in a single list, regardless of the technology used by the competitor. However, the results list will indicate the technology used by each competitor, graphic shorthand, machine shorthand, keyboarding and voice writing with speech recognition.

Results are ranked in order determined by:

- the number of valid minutes transcribed
- the number of penalties

World champion titles are awarded to the three, highest ranked competitors if the following full number of minutes has been successfully transcribed:

Seniors 8 minutes,
Juniors 6 minutes,
Pupils 4 minutes.

Article 19 – Correspondence & summary reporting

19.1 Kind of competition

The competition consists of two parts:

- a verbatim transcription of a three-minute dictation of a letter introducing the theme of the second part;
- a summary report in complete sentences from a text which will be dictated for seven minutes.

Regulations for the INTERSTENO competitions – Ghent (Belgium) 2013

The text of this latter dictation contains a title and several numbered paragraph titles which indicate the theme and subthemes of the text to be summarized. These titles must be transcribed verbatim.

There is a ten-second pause in the dictation between the first and the second part.

Participation in this competition is open to competitors using graphic shorthand, machine shorthand (stenotype or regular keyboard) or voice writing with speech recognition using a stenomask or other speech silencer to effectively render their dictation inaudible to other competitors.

The dictation is delivered at an increasing rate of speed.

The speed of the dictation, expressed in syllables per minute, follows one of the below mentioned columns. The choice of a particular column is based on the length of the translation of the basic text: the letter and the text to be summarized. The competitors will be told before the dictation which column has been used for the competition text in their language.

Columns	I	II	III	IV	V	VI

19.2 Evaluation

For the evaluation of the letter and of the heading and subheadings see below.

The summary report shall be evaluated using the model summary. The model summary contains the heading and the numbered subheadings and, after each numbered subheading, a conveniently arranged report of the essential elements of this particular section (paragraph) of the basic text which must appear in the contestant's summary.

Each section to be summarized shall be allotted (in the model summary) a certain number of credit points, allowing the competitor to earn a maximum of 100 points. An auxiliary evaluating form with the model summary will show the distribution of the allotted number of credit points of a section over the essential elements of that section.

The number of words in each of the summarized sections of an individual transcription should not be more than half the number of the dictated words. Exceeding the number of words will be considered superfluous and for each superfluous word one penalty is counted.

The competitors will be told beforehand the maximum number of words that is allowed for the summary of each paragraph. They count themselves the number of words used for each summarised paragraph and mention these numbers in their transcription.

Letter

The total number of penalties for the letter is calculated according to the penalty table of the shorthand/speech capturing competition (see art. 16.2, a.). If there are more than 30 penalties, the whole transcription will not be considered as valid.

Heading and subheadings of the summary report

See penalty table of the shorthand/speech capturing competition.

Summarized sections of the summary report

For the transcription to be valid, no fewer than 50 of the maximum of 100 points available must be earned. This number of points is then multiplied by three.

The penalties for the heading and subheadings of the summary report and the penalties for the superfluous words of the summary report will be deducted from the resulting number. The result is the net number of points for the summary report (300 maximum).

19.3 Ranking and titles

The results are ranked in order determined by:

- the net number of credit points for the summary report (max. 300)
- the number of penalties for the letter

International champion titles are awarded to the three, highest ranked competitors if the following minimum ranking points have been achieved:

Seniors	280 points
Juniors	260 points
Pupils	230 points.

Article 20 – Combined list

20.1 Purpose of the list

A list of the multi talented individuals who have participated successful in at least three of the seven organized competitions will be published.

20.2 Ranking and medals

Results in the combination list are ranked based upon:

- the number of competitions in which the competitor is successful (maximum 7);
- the combined sum of the results calculated by dividing the rank by total number of successful competitors in each competition.

No titles are given based on this list, but certificates and medals.

Final provisions

The official regulations are those drafted in English.

In order to make the reading of the text easier, all the designations of people are masculine and valid for both sexes as abbreviated version.

These regulations are based on the decisions of the Intersteno Council at October 2012 in Prague (Czech Rep.) and have been finalized by the Jury on November 16th, 2012.
